Article 1:
A YouTuber's fancy Bali vacation sure looked nice.
Nope, the photos were taken in an Ikea

https://edition.cnn.com/2020/02/23/us/youtuber-bali-indonesia-ikea-trnd/index.html

5 words to look up in the dictionary:

- Nope (exclamation)
- Lounge (verb)
- Floral (adj)
- Fictitious (adj)
- Awry (adj)

Question 1:
How did Natalia get photos of Bali to post on her Instagram?

Question 2:
How did one fan notice that something was awry with the photos?

Question 3:
Does Natalia believe that you should take social media more seriously, or less seriously? Why?

Article 2:
Italian town Teora hopes to lure new residents by paying their rent

https://edition.cnn.com/travel/article/italy-teora-rent/index.html

5 words to look up in the dictionary:

- Lure (verb)
- Revive (verb)
- Dwindle (verb)
- Dilapidated (adj)
- Renovate (verb)

Question 1:
What is the main concern about the effects of the popular '€1 home deal' in Italy?

Question 2:
What are the two conditions of the free rent scheme in Teora?

Question 3:
Why has Teora's population decreased dramatically since 1980?

EXTRA QUESTION: Would you accept Teora's offer? Why or why not?